Fathers and Sons (FS) apparently pleased no one on in Russia on publication, and if not precisely shocked the muchadumbre, then surely ruffled feathers and rubbed salt in fresh wounds: that, in any event, is the general promise in the blurb on the back cover of the book. This is a classic set in mid-nineteenth century Russia, when liberal ideas of social reform were in the air, but revolution still far off. Its theme, as the title indicates, is the relationship between fathers and sons. The theme is developed in the story of two friends, one from the landed class, the other, a nihilist from a less wealthy and ...Turgenev's Fathers and Sons is a rare classic novel that combines a story set in an era of social and political change in feudal Russia with a theme regarding generational conflict that has a timeless relevance to any age. His characters capture the tensions of youth filled with passion over new ideas clashing with the established ways of their ...Turgenev, Ivan. 1917. Fathers and Children. Vol. XIX, Part 2.
