

Download Communication Skills For Professional Nurses

Effective communication is a skill all healthcare professionals need, but one that not all are naturally good at. In a single day, nurses can speak to people of varying educational, cultural and social backgrounds and they must do so in an effective, caring and professional manner. By Melissa Mills, RN, BSN, CCM, MHA. Nurse communication skills are one of the most important components for career success. As a nurse, you are constantly communicating with colleagues as well as patients and their families. Nurses must have excellent communication skills to provide the best care for patients and to earn the respect of their peers. What kinds of communication skills will nurses use? Here is just a small sample of how nurses use various communications skills throughout the day: Effective Communication Skills for Nurses and Healthcare Professionals 5 Comments

Communication skills include both verbal and non-verbal messages that people use when interacting with others. - Communication Skills For Professional Nurses