

Download Family Maps Of Washington County Indiana

Maps of Indiana tend to be an invaluable part of ancestors and family history research, especially in the event you live far from where your ancestor was living. Washington is a city in Daviess County, Indiana, United States. The population was 11,509 at the 2010 census. The city is the county seat of Daviess County. It is also the principal city of the Washington, IN Micropolitan Statistical Area, which comprises all of Daviess County and had an estimated 2017 population of 31,648. Older Reference Works on the Van Meter Family Also see the Selected Records of Phil Ruckman — — Kratzer Family The DuBois Family Association A genealogy of the Duke - Shepherd - Van Metre family from civil, military, church and family records and documents Allen County, Indiana Named for Colonel John Allen, who fought Tecumseh's siege of Fort Wayne in 1812. County Seat: Fort Wayne Largest City: Fort Wayne (2017 population: 265,904) Population per Square Mile: 571.05 Square Miles: 657.30 Go to county's in.gov site - Family Maps Of Washington County Indiana