

Download Marriage Of The Living Dark

The Marriage of the Living Dark is the eighth and final novel in the Chung Kuo series, most of which have been translated into many languages. David Wingrove lives in North London with his wife and four daughters. David Wingrove. The Marriage of the Living Dark (Chung Kuo, #8) 3.38 · Rating details · 272 Ratings · 8 Reviews. The Great Experiment has failed. The Ten Thousand Year Empire of the Han has lasted less than two centuries and now not a single stack remains of the great city of ice that once covered the habitable earth. In The Marriage of the Living Dark, it is revealed that Howard DeVore is actually not a human being at all but an ancient gigantic multidimensional alien space spider responsible for most of humanity's ills and that without his interference humanity would long ago have achieved utopia. Humanity is not responsible for any atrocity and cruelty. The Marriage of the Living Dark is the twentieth and final novel in the Chung Kuo series by David Wingrove. This novel shares the same name as the eighth volume of the original version of the series and comprises some of the same material. - Marriage Of The Living Dark