This egg is rather hard to draw so here is a version you can print out. Cut out the pieces and try making the birds shown below and also found here. There are lots more birds to make, so invent your own! On this episode of the Mr Barton Maths Podcast, I spoke to David Didau. I loved this conversation. I found the subject matter of David's book fascinating, and I was so lucky to be able to dig into it further with David. As you will hear – and despite my best efforts to prepare – I was a ...
