TNS-01190: The user is not authorized to execute the requested listener command
Note: Starting in 11gR2, the listener log is not activated by default. You have to turn on listener logging: `logging_listener_name=on`. The great thing about this is that all the OS logs and Database logs can now be viewed in the same remote log via Oracle automatically sorted by timestamp and interleaved with one ...I was experiencing a similar issue on a Win 2008 server. The Net.Tcp Listener Adapter and the Net.Pipe Listener Adapter would hang in the "starting" state.
