Saying thank you is one of the best ways to maintain a relationship with your professional connections. That's especially the case when you're job hunting. It is important to take the time to thank everyone who helps with your career or job search, especially networking contacts who are willing to offer you advice and – even better – who recommend you to others in their professional networks. Network Service Mesh Project Joins Cloud Native Computing Foundation. Project backed by Cisco, VMware and Red Hat lands as a new sandbox effort to enable a new type of mesh of container networking. Over the course of your work life, networking will be the single most effective method of advancing your career. While networking may not “get you a job,” it does play a role in the majority of hiring decisions. Linux networking commands, network monitoring tools, configuration examples and administration are covered in this tutorial.
